
Time Machine

Fact: Most objects can be improved by making them look more like the dash of a 1970s muscle car. Proof: Urwerk's UR-CC1 (urwerk.com). But while it may look funky on the outside, this time teller is no gimmick—behind the scenes it runs with the self-winding precision of a Rolex. Which may go some way toward explaining its $278,000 price.

